VIP dance 400 honor Carey

BY GLORIA DAVIS

Approximately 400 people crowded St. Peter's Social Center to pay honor to Irv Carey, 1981's VIP.

After a delicious dinner, Bill Brook led the tributes to Carey by introducing old friends like Ed Vos who reminisced about Carey's early days in Antioch.

Some of the many boys, who Carey employed over the years, Tom Havilland and Bob Diemer, told about working for Carey and thanked him for training them.

Jim Fields, Antioch Township supervisor, told more anecdotes about Carey and presented him with a gift from the township. Carey has sat on the Antioch Township Board for 20 years.

Congratulations came from the Notre Dame Club, of which Carey is a founding father, and Mayor Mike Haley paid him tribute from the village of Antioch.

Haley's short talk and his reference to not giving a boring political speech, coming only a week before election, drew applause from the audience.

Added to the rest of the ceremony was the sound of bagpipes, an Irish song sung by Florence Babusek and an Irish jig.

Proceeds from the annual dinner dance went to St. Peter's.

AHS students want to get 'High on life!'

BY GLORIA DAVIS

Much has been written about drug and alcohol abuse among our teens.

We've all heard "most of the kids do it," but when the kids themselves tell you that upwards of 90 percent of the students attending the local high school are drug or alcohol involved on a regular basis, the enormity of the problem hits you smack between the eyes.

But some of the students at Antioch Community High School are doing something positive about this problem. Thanks to Chuck Lindholm, ACHS teacher and coordinator of the project, I was able to interview four of the eight girls who attended Operation Snowball at the Holiday Inn, Zion, from March 12-15.

Operation Snowball's purpose is to give information on drug and alcohol abuse to interested kids and adults alike, forming discussion groups to help people be themselves without the use of such crutches, the plan being that those attending form small satellite groups of their own which could also spawn more such groups.

I was interested in talking to the students but not prepared for the enthusiasm and straightforward purposefulness that I met with.

In speaking of the weekend spent getting more information of these problems prevalent in today's society, especially the youthful end of it, these girls impressed me greatly with their new-found convictions.

"It was a once in a lifetime experience, I came out of it with a whole new outlook on drug and alcohol abuse," said Kelly Gordon excitedly.

They spoke of the reticence with which they had approached the weekend, vowing to stick together, afraid to get involved with all the strangers that would be attending the seminar.

The result was that they never saw each other for the entire weekend, but made many new friends and came out "feeling that everyone cared about each other," said Paddy Martini.

Learning to be yourself and not wear a mask so none of these crutches would be needed was one of the special lessons they learned.

Lisa Starr said, "It's important to learn to accept yourself and then you don't have to bend to peer pressure."

During the weekend spent with both kids and adults, the girls heard of the experiences of people who had been owned by liquor and drugs.

The girls talked about the peer pressure felt by most students in high school afraid that they won't be accepted or considered a square if they refuse to drink or take drugs.

They spoke of the communication gap between parents and their kids, blaming it on both sides, kids afraid to talk to their parents and parents either too busy or afraid to find out that their kids have problems.

One of the consensus was that parents expect too much of their children, wanting them to be what they want, without taking the children themselves and their wishes into consideration.

Love and the expression of it was given as a prime solution.

The example of parents using drugs and abusing the use of alcohol was given as another reason for kids doing the same.

Besides parents being afraid to find out what their kids are doing, they told me that some kids are drunk or high in school, in such conditions as would be impossible for teachers not to notice, but some of them ignore it, probably also not wanting to get involved.

Though they are just on the threshold and have admittedly a lot more to learn on the subject, "We are starting our own peer group with the permission of the administration and the sponsorship of Carol Dupes, sociology teacher at ACHS," reported Maureen McDevitt.

Robin Lindorff, Michelle Morris and Janet Ditzig are also deeply interested in the project.

The girls intend to keep in touch with the friends they made at the seminar and are looking forward to a public meeting to be held at 7:30, April 6, at the College of Lake County.

I wonder how many parents could find the time to attend this and become more enlightened on what their kids are doing?

Township, Village have referendums

Both the village and township of Antioch have tax cut referendums on the ballot for April 7.

The village will have three on its ballot and the township will have two.

On the township ballot will be referendums asking for the lowering of the ceiling of the road and bridge and the corporate taxes.

The referendum calls for the township fund ceiling to be lowered from $.25 to $.1875 of assessed value while the referendums also calls for the lowering of the road and bridge tax from $.125 to $.094.

The three referendums on the village ballot call for tax ceiling cuts on the street and bridge tax, the general corporate fund and the fire protection fund.

The referendums ask that the street and bridge fund ceiling be lowered from $.10 to $.075; the general corporate fund tax be lowered from $.25 to $.1875 and the fire protection fund be brought down to $.1125 instead of $.150.

All of these figures will be based upon a percentage of the equalized assessed value.

Fighting for passage of the referendums is a local and statewide tax revolt group, with candidate for village trustee, Claudette Skvarce one of the leaders.

Township officials do not oppose the referendum since there is interest in them in the township.

The Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept. feels that the 25 percent cut in the fire protection fund is a shortsided approach to tax control.

The Fire Dept. now receives $48,000 per year and if the referendum is passed that will be cut to $36,000.

The department claims that this will not mean an immediate cut in fire protection services, but it will show up in future equipment replacements, making cuts in services necessary then.

Christian healing lecture at ACHS

Just what is involved in Christian healing through prayer? Christian Scientist Rich, Howard will explore the answer to that question when he lectures in Antioch at 3 p.m. on April 18, in Antioch Community High School, Commons Area.

At the outset of his free, one-hour lecture, Howard, himself a Christian Science practitioner from Toronto, Canada, describes a turning point in his life when his wife was quickly healed of a serious illness.

For those unfamiliar with Christian Science, he says, healing through prayer may seem to be related to the power of the human mind, some sort of self-hypnosis or mind-control. It is none of those, he says. Rather, Howard adds, it is coming closer to God, meekly learning to understand the nature of God's creation and seeking to follow and obey the example "taught and lived by Christ Jesus."

The basis for Christian Science healing, then, he notes, is prayer based on spiritual truths taught and lived by Jesus of Nazareth. Those truths which the disciples sensed and practiced awakened them to "the healing reality of God as their Father — as the Father of all, as the Father of the entire universe." And this understanding, Howard says, "this dynamic awakening, this revolutionary revelation transformed their lives..."

This awakening spiritual understanding, the lecturer adds, has to be put into practice through living. "We must learn that prayer is not so much what we say, but what we live," he says. "As the revelation of spiritual truth deepens in consciousness, our whole life becomes prayer."

Howard, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will be introduced by Mrs. Joseph (Maggie) Pisani, from First Church of Christ, Scientist, Antioch, sponsor of the lecture.

The lecture is titled "What Do You Mean — Christian Science Treatment?"

Antioch Rotary Club hosts 15 exchange students

A super youth exchange weekend started with lunch on Thursday, March 26, when fifteen foreign exchange students of District 644, Rotary International, met with the Antioch Rotary Club at the Harbor Ridge Country Club.

The purpose of their visit was an international day at Antioch High School and to get together to share their experiences with Antioch Rotarians.

The students, representing France, Belgium, South Africa, Australia, Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Brazil, Japan, and the Philippines, are all living with Rotary families in communities all over northeast Illinois.

All the details for this weekend were the brainstorm of Antioch's exchange student, Emmanuelle Humbert.

Emmanuelle, who is currently living with Richard and Carol Paddock, is from France.

Dennis Johnson, president of the Antioch club wants to thank the local merchants and his fellow Rotarians for their help in making this weekend a success.

After starting the weekend at the Rotary Club luncheon, the activities for the students, for the exchange weekend, included tours of Pickard China, the Mark of the Gryphon, the Advertiser, a volleyball game, spending a normal school day at Antioch High School, movies and meals at several area restaurants.

Township election quiet

There has been no campaigning for the offices that are up for re-election in Antioch Township, since there are really no issues and no known challengers to those now in office.

But appearing on the ballot and still asking for your vote of confidence, are the members of People's Independent Party, headed by incumbent township supervisor, Jim Fields.

Fields, who has been supervisor for the last four years, also occupies a seat on the Lake County Board since last November's election.

He is a native son of Antioch, is married and has five children.

He is a 24 year veteran of the Antioch Rescue Squad, member of the Lions Club and has served on the zoning board of the village of Antioch.

Fields says that he can see the acquisition of cable tv for residents of the township as one of the township board's immediate goals.

Other incumbent members of PIP, on the ballot are: Richard Harland, clerk; Bud Holtz, assessor, Blaine Ring, road commissioner; and trustees, Irving Carey, Rudolph Eckert, Homer LaPlant and David Heath.

Carey has been on the township board for 20 years, Ring for 18, Eckert for 10, LaPlant for eight, Heath for four and Harland for two, having been appointed to fill out the term of Buster Van Patton who retired after 20 years on the board.

Holtz, also sits on the Lake County Board like Fields.

Transition volunteers needed

The Fred Foreman, State's Attorney Transition Team is seeking members of the public who would be interested in serving on the Lake County State's Attorney's Citizens Advisory Committee.

If you would like to become a member of this Committee, contact Bernard Wysocki, Transition Team Chairman, at 244-0770, or write him at 9 N. County Street, Waukegan, Illinois 60085 for further information.

Boy Scouts take first

Antioch's Boy Scout Troop 92 won first place at the Lakes District Annual First Aid Meet at Grant High School, March 21.

In a field of 23 competitors, Cobra Patrol Leader Phil Hettich, his assistant Dale Gade, and patrol members Brian Clark, John Lundgren, Bob Paschke, and Frank Zeien scored 103 points, which was five points higher than the second place runner-up.

A patrol was required to respond to such problem situations as broken collarbone, burns, drowning, cut arm, eye splinter, and hypothermia. Performance in each situation was judged on these criteria: problem analysis, treatment, call for help, transport, teamwork and leadership.

The Cobra Patrol was trained by Senior Patrol Leader Nick Zeien, his assistant Paul J. Hettich, and adult leaders Scoutmaster Bernie Dost, Tom Aschbacher, Harold Clark, Don Gade, Dick Jaschob, John Lundgren and Pat Naughton.

First aid was not the only skill acquired by Scouts this winter. Ray Eisenbrenner of the Chain O'Lakes State Park Maintenance Department gave a presentation on wood ducks to the Scouts.

Troop 92 volunteered to build wood duck nests for the park using materials supplied by the Conservation Department. Under the supervision of adult leaders, the boys constructed 10 nests.

Carole explains Township, Park District give jobs to youths

by CAROLE RISKA

The fact that Antioch Township is sharing revenue with Antioch Park District has created a few more jobs for the township youth. Most of the kids have just as hard a time finding part-time employment for pocket money and constructive use of their time as any ghetto teen.

Lots of kids will hack the 50 mile roundtrip to Great America for jobs or try to find something locally, but there isn't much to be had.

So even a few more jobs for them are welcome.

Speaking of kids, every generation that comes along seems to become more aware of justice and injustice within the American system and of course the credit for this awareness must be given to the kid's teachers, but it seems that the area the kids decided to look to for justice and injustice was their very own environment, the schools.

Several weeks ago a popular tv program highlighted school newspapers and one of the top school papers had done what the kids called an expose.

It seems the teachers were using drivers-ed cars for personal reasons.

Last week the College of Lake County Chronicle featured, on the front page, a picture of a security car parked in a plainly marked "for handicapped only" area.

When the kids checked out the above situations there was not a valid excuse for either case, so the stories were reported on the front pages of their newspapers.

Is snitching on the brain that reads to you the same as biting the hand that feeds you. Hope the teachers can appreciate how well the kids learned other lessons.

"The Silent Majority," remember them. The Antioch area has many of these people talking among themselves. They wonder about the two most often given answers for our depressed economy, ones given by those "who know".

Number one it's the workers and number two it's foreign competition.

But, if you talk to any worker, they will say that they earn every dime and the hard way, and 98 percent of them do.

Talk to the purchaser of any foreign product and they will tell you that it is superior to its American counterpart.

Listen to big business, they don't say they try harder, what they say is, "Make our workers work harder for less and shut the American market off from imports so that our products can't be compared to foreign imports."

Then the economy will improve.

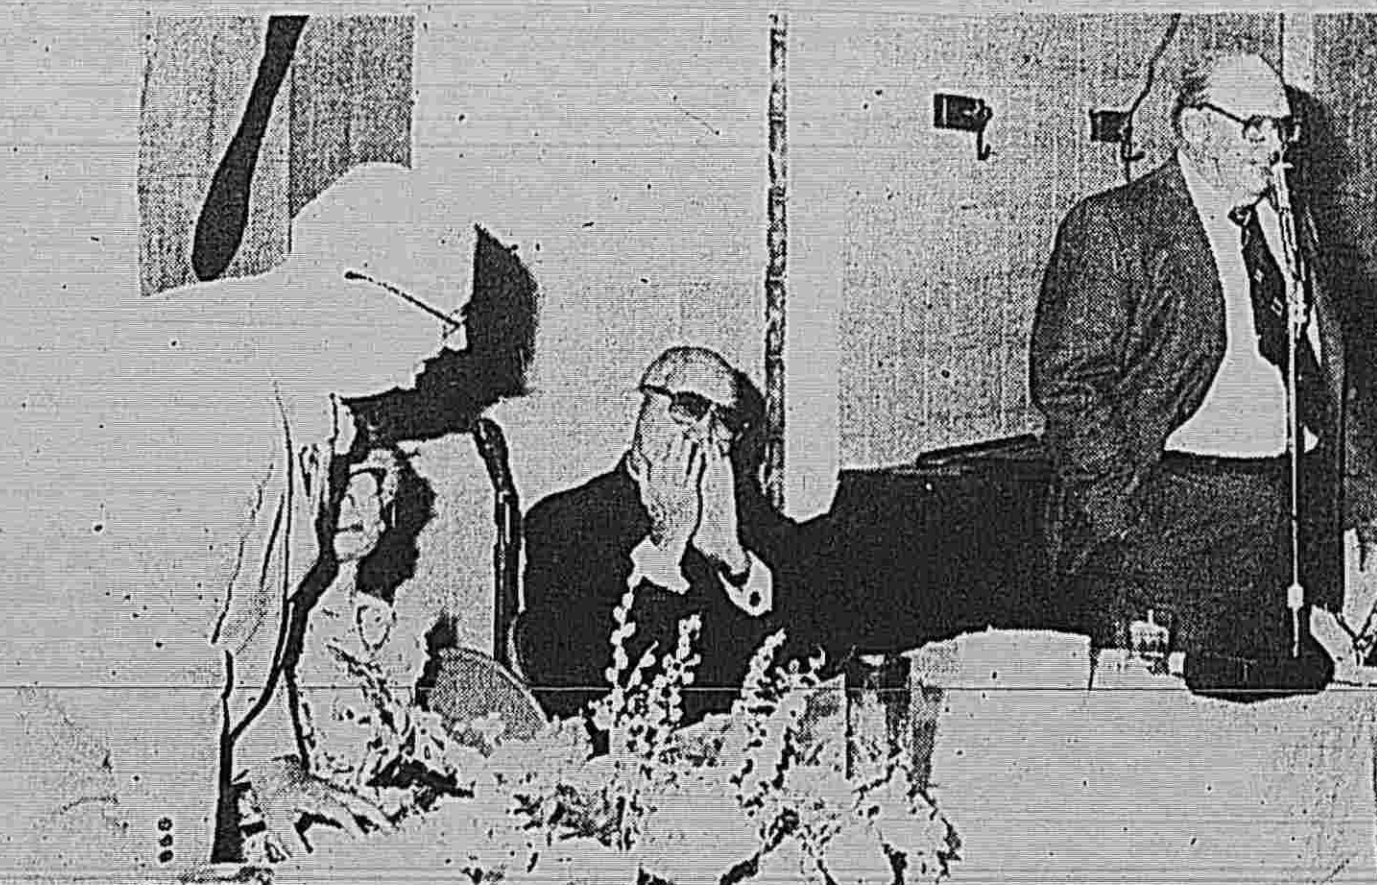

The Silent Majority wonders again is this the good old American know-how and initiative and sense of competition, that put the first man on the moon, or is this what is known as passing the buck?

There is a new wrinkle in health care service for John Q. Public, hospitals will no longer fill out insurance forms until the bill is paid.

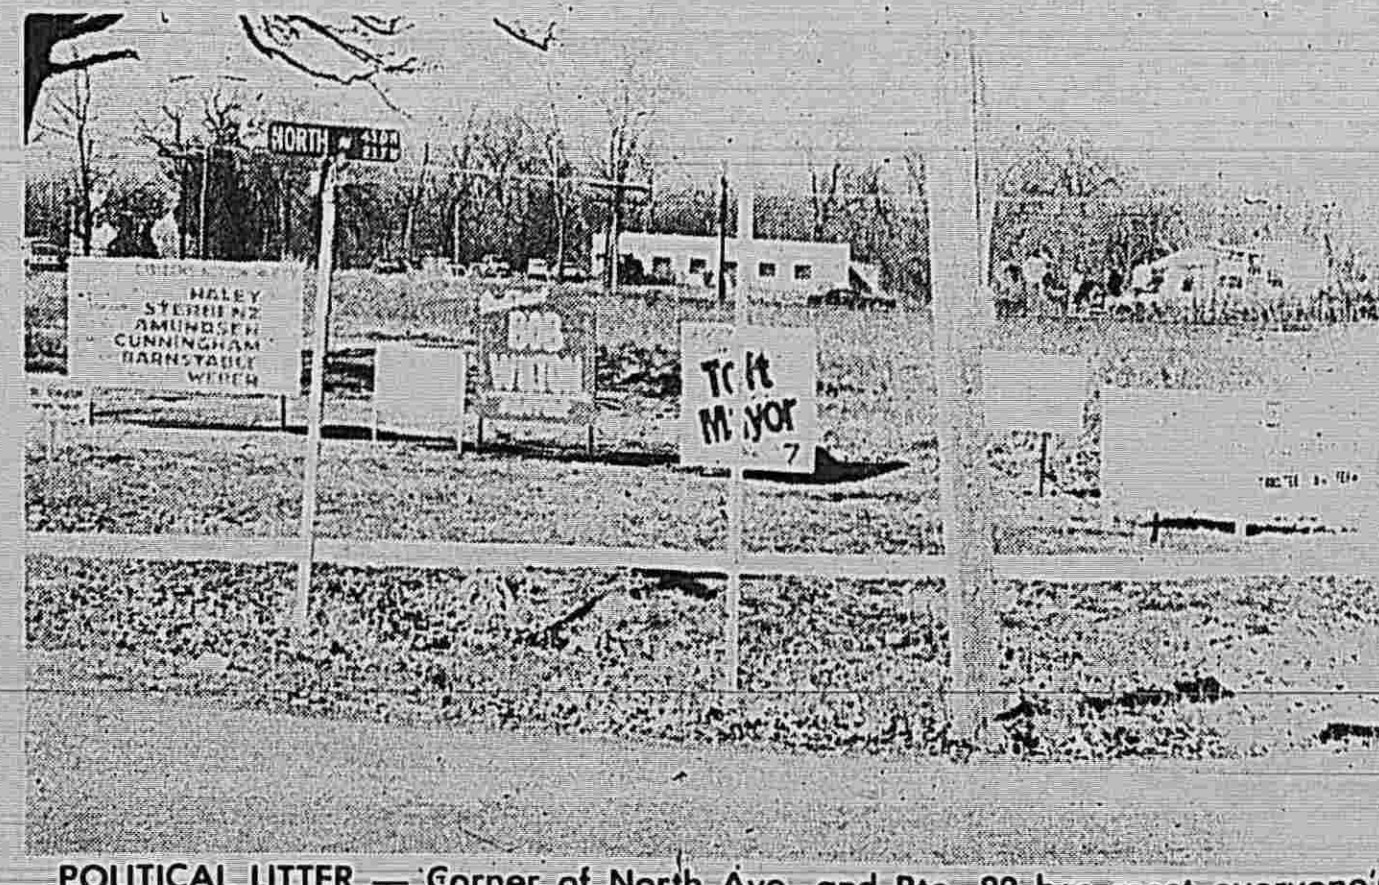

You will be treated at any emergency center, but your forms are no longer accepted as payment.

You are billed later, and you pay the bill and its up to you to see that the insurance company re-imburse you.

This has to be good for at least another three yards of red tape.

This is the second time he has run for mayor, having unsuccessfully vied for that office in 1977.

Gillman is running on a law and order platform with intentions of improving the police department, its relations with youth.

He claims that the village needs to rid itself of loose dogs and that the village is more in need of a part-time dog catcher than it is of a full time mayor.

More aid to seniors as well as youth drug crackdown, are also on Gillman's agenda if he is elected.

Philip Burke is a native son of Antioch, running for political office for the first time.

He has been away from his home in Antioch for 30 years when he was a military and commercial pilot and involved in corporate business.

He claims to have an open minded viewpoint and would like to bring the village back under the control of its citizens.

He was treasurer of the Lake County Municipal League, 1977, 20 year member and past director of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, rescue squad member for 17 years, member of the Lions and the Moose Clubs.

Wilton is running on his record as a former mayor of Antioch, pledges to return $7,000 of the mayoral salary and makes promises of resident communication and progress without a tax raise.

He is married, has children in the Antioch Grade School system, is a member of the Antioch Grade School Board, on the executive board of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, has served on the Village Planning Commission, and been on the Antioch Rescue Squad for eight years.

He is new to village politics and says that it is time for a change to better communication and cooperation between the village board and the residents of Antioch.

In running on the CAP ticket, he hopes to do even more to further the idea that "Antioch is great place to live and work."

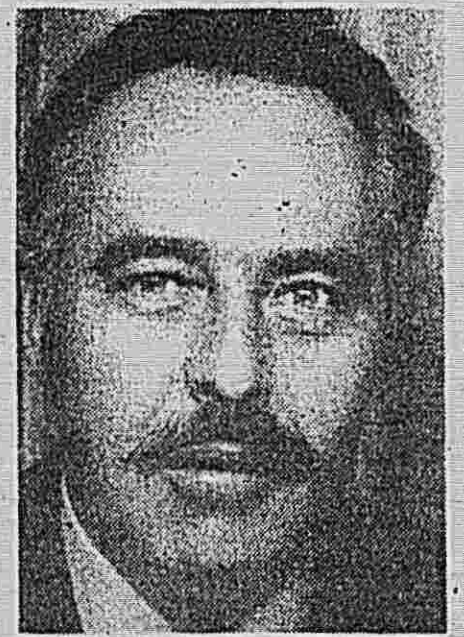

Cunningham, a life-long Antioch resident, is married, has two daughters and operates a trucking business.

He has served two terms as village trustee, served in the armed forces, been a member of the fire department for 17 years, as well as serving as that department's president.

He is the former owner of the State Line Inn, a former Chicago fireman and is presently employed as a truck driver.

The wrestling star Jim McMillin, handed two defeats to George Zaharias, 238-pound Greek-American, at the Coliseum Monday night. Those with a liking for real action were satisfied, for the encounters were among the roughest staged in Chicago this season. Antioch was represented among the crowd by a number of fans. Among those from Antioch attending were Adolph Pesat, Arthur Hawkins, Albert Shepher, Andrew Cobb, Dr. H.F. Beebe, Leslie Crandall, Carl Barthel and Fred Wolf.

Antioch has added police protection as the result of the installation of two-way radio equipment in the car of Police Chief Walter I. Scott. The village doesn't have a police headquarters or any place where the police can be reached by telephone, but it will be possible to call the sheriff's office which can contact Chief Scott in the same way that it can contact sheriff's deputies. But don't try to make the long distance calls through the sheriff to Chief Scott collect. It can't be done.

Motion pictures on the subject of plywood and steel were shown members of the Lions Club at its dinner meeting at Pregoner's resort Monday evening. The pictures were furnished by Roman Vos of the Antioch Lumber Co., and shown by E.W. Edwards. A WLS barn dance comedy was thrown in as an extra.

Variety of candidates

dept., holding various offices in that department.

He enjoys working with people and is concerned about his village.

Fahrner has resided in Antioch for nine years, is married and has two children.

Completely new to politics, she is presently a housewife, has worked at the Antioch Clinic, been active in the grade school PTO, Little League, and Cub and Girl Scouts.

She is very vociferously running for the village board because she feels, "the present board is insensitive to the people of the village," and she feels that she can listen and hear the people better than they do.

Fahrner was one of the leaders of the revolt against the full-time mayor at $28,000 per year.

Weber, has lived in Antioch all her life, is a widow, mother of five, presently serving as a village trustee.

Her employment record includes that of working at the post office and as a business office supervisor at Illinois Bell. She is currently working at the Antioch Bowling Lanes.

An active member of the United Methodist Church, she has served on the board of directors of the Oakwood Knolls Property Association and also holds memberships in the Antioch Women's Club and the Eastern Star.

She is a grandmother twice over, and is running on the CAP ticket supporting "the continued thoughtful planning of the village."

She also says, "The growth in housing and population should also be balanced by growth in business and industry."

White, has worked in Antioch since 1961 and lived in the village since 1965.

He is the owner of White's Ice Cream Parlor as well as working for Radke's Barber Shop on the side.

He is married, has four children, has been on the rescue squad for 16 years, member of the Lions Club, Swim Team Association's president and is an active member of St. Stephan's Lutheran Church.

White says, "I think its time for a change and two other things that need working on are light industry and smoother flowing traffic."

Georgeson has been a resident of Antioch for 19 years and for 18 of those years, has been a local businessman.

New to village politics, he has been on the executive committee and a member of Antioch Fire Dept. for 14 years.

He is also a charter member of the Rotary Club, a member of the Moose, active in Viking football, being elected "man of the Year" on their 10th Anniversary.

Besides the Jaycees, he is an active member of the GOP, serving as president of the Antioch Republican Party, chairman of the Antioch Township republicans.

Georgeson is running for village trustee because, "I love Antioch and know I can do a good job as a trustee in keeping my village running efficiently."

Skvarce has lived in Antioch for 10 years, is married and has two children and is a full-time homemaker.

She is a political neophyte, although she was one of the leaders of the drives to cut village and township tax ceilings and to stop the passage of the ordinance giving a full-time mayor a $28,000 per year salary.

Skvarce says that she is running for trustee because, "I didn't like the way things were being done, especially the lack of concern for how the people feel on issues."

If elected she intends to push for more responsible spending, since the economy warrants a watching of the tax dollars, and better communication with the people, who want to be informed before, and not after, the fact.

When I think about it

Gloria nominates best for industry awards

by GLORIA DAVIS

Well, looks like it's award time again! We've already had the "Golden Globe" and the "Grammys," and a fast glance at future tv schedules finds that we're about to be lambasted with the usual four of five country awards shows, the Academy Awards, the "Tonys," "The People's Choice," and a zillion other black tie, tedious affairs that pay tribute to the "best" of the entertainment industry, who tend to credit everyone, down to the cab driver who drove them to the ceremonies, for their success.

But I guess that these dastardly dinners are the high light of the year for those involved in amusing us and they probably deserve their "day in the sun," or "night in the spotlight," or whatever.

It's a shame that some of our other industries can't get into the act and get their "Best of Kind" awards for all the world to see.

My nomination to receive the Emmy for the "Best All Around Comedian" is the Oil Industry for making us laugh hysterically all the way to the poor house.

And the Auto industry should be in line to receive the Grammy for the best theme song of the year "We Got Plenty of Nothing."

To the food suppliers of America, I would like to award a redundant People's Choice Award, for leaving the people very little choice when grocery shopping, by forcing them to price shop instead of choosing personal likes and dislikes.

Why not give the members of the women's clothing industry an Oscar for the best remake of all the ugliest clothes, that first reared their unflattering heads in the '30s, '40s and '50s?

And lastly to Mr. Edison. Ma Bell and the gas companies everywhere, please take the Toni Award for the best drama of the year, for all the dramatics they have used in trying to explain their traumatic dramatic rate raises by using energy scare tactics.

EMMONS FASHION SHOW — Ann Kakacek, Paul Boarini and Shiela Haley are pictured wearing some of the fashions they will model at the Emmons PTO Dinner Dance on April 25, at Hunter Country Club, Richmond. Fashions will be from Jack's Four Squires, Stanley's, the Globe, B.J.'s, Barnstables and Triangle Sports and Marine. Donation for the event is $13.50 per person, tickets will be available until April 20, call 395-2521 or 395-5202. — Photo by Gloria Davis

AARP members attend National Issue Forum

Frances Tomasik reported that 116 members were present at the March 24 meeting of the Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) when they met at the Antioch Area Senior Citizen Center at 817 Holbek Dr.

In the absence of Dolly Spiering, president, who is recuperating from a mastoid operation, Larry Klimas, vice president, conducted the meeting.

Ann Hoffman, Friendly Aid Chairman, submitted her resignation, due to outside commitments, which will take more of her time.

Members were told that at a recent board meeting, the board voted to raise the cost of not bringing food to a meeting, from $2 to $3. In the past, if you were asked to bring a cake, bread, salad, or a dish for potluck, and you didn't, $2 was asked. Now, it will be $3.

Esther Aiani announced that a mini-bus will be taking 11 members to the Milwaukee AARP National Issue Forum April 22. Members were urged to car-pool and attend the forum that will be held April 21, 22 and 23. Anyone interested may call her at 395-5354.

Aiani announced that she would be presiding officer at the 1981 Spring Chapter Leadership Workshop to be held May 8, at the Windjammer Restaurant, Route 173, two miles west of Rte. 59 in Antioch. Call her for more information.

Glen Peterson sold tickets for a bus trip to the Garfield Park Conservatory and lunch at the Old Warsaw Restaurant in Chicago on April 23. On the way home they will shop at Sara Lee Kitchens.

The chapter is temporarily closing their membership. Anyone who belongs to the National Chapter and would like to join the local chapter, may attend one meeting to have their name put on a waiting list.

Arrangements are being made to do something about the acoustics at the center.

Frances Winiecki introduced Rose Kennedy who was the chapters first secretary 16 years ago. She was a guest at the meeting.

Tomasik, nominating committee chairman, will present a slate of officers at the May 12 business meeting. Nominations may be made from the floor at that time. Elections will be at the June 9 meeting, and installation at the dinner meeting, later that month.

The next meeting of the AARP Chapter 387 will be held on Tuesday, April 14 at the Antioch Area Senior Center. Doors open at 9:30 a.m. This will be a social meeting.

Harland trys for grant

Nancy J. Harland, Rte. 3, Box 474, Antioch, a senior at Antioch Community High School, ACHS, is one of 500 semi-finalists for a Jostens Foundation Scholarship.

Harland was one of more than 13,400 high school students throughout the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, who applied for the award. The 140 scholarship winners will be announced this spring. Selection of the finalists and winners is based on outstanding achievements in school and community affairs, academic excellence and meaningful work experiences.

The Citizens Scholarship Foundation of America, Concord, N.H., as administrators for The Jostens Foundation Scholarship Program, has selected the semi-finalists and will select the winners after receiving additional information. Semi-finalists who do not receive scholarships will receive Certificates of Recognition.

Commenting on the scholarship program, Don C. Lein, president of The Jostens Foundation, said, "The Jostens Foundation is committed to developing quality education for today's young people and responding to the needs of our nation's youth."

Funds for The Jostens Foundation are provided annually by a major support program of Jostens, Inc., a Minneapolis-based manufacturer of custom-designed products which motivate individuals and recognize achievements in business, education and athletics.

Big congrats to Anne Marie Lorang, daughter of Mrs. John Lorang, who has been awarded a Fulbright-Hayes Scholarship to study at the University of Bonn, Germany for 1981-82. Her studies will focus on "World Hunger" and she will enter law school at the University of Illinois upon her return.

Happy Anniversary to long time Antioch residents Hjortes and Fred Bremer, now residing at Rolling Hills Manor, Zion, who celebrated their 69th wedding anniversary on March 29.

Maybe the kids won't have to make up that day they had off from school because of the hostages' release.

It seems it is a state law that anytime a national day of mourning or holiday is declared by the President, there is no choice but to give a school holiday.

There are no provisions for making it up, but reports have it that a bill has been introduced in the General Assembly and maybe the kids won't have to make it up.

I just got word that, in an out of court settlement, Russ Fairchild received only $50,000 for his two broken hips and pelvis.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sterba, who will be celebrating their 50th anniversary on April 12.

Barat College studio art major, Janet Gallimore, daughter of Robert Gallimore, Antioch, will give her senior art show in the Reicher Gallery at Barat College, from Wednesday, April 8 through Sunday, April 12.

An opening reception for Janet will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on April 8, in the gallery.

Mrs. Dennis "Billie" Horton has been named the 1981 chairperson for the Breath of Spring Bike-A-Thon, to be held in Antioch, for the benefit of Cystic Fibrosis.

Welcome back to downtown Antioch to Laddie Korecek, who just couldn't keep away and Bob Wilton, who is going to return his business to Main St. as of April 1.

Well just one more week of politics and then it's the big day.

Let me urge all the residents of Antioch and the township to investigate the candidates, decide who you want to run your village and township and be sure to get down to the village hall on April 7 and vote.

Letters To The Editor

MEN SHOULD REMEMBER

Editor:

The March 2, issue of the Antioch News contained an article by Gloria Davis entitled "Wives Must Be Memorable". While I personally enjoyed the article, I also felt something was missing. There is a need for an article entitled "Husbands Must Be Memorable, Too".

Close to 50 percent of the women are now employed outside the home. This simple statistic has caused many couples to scrutinize and change their marital roles.

Obviously it is unfair to have one spouse work eight hours outside the home and another four or five inside the home.

It is time to destroy the super-woman myth, especially to teenagers.

What is wrong with teaching teenage men how to cook, clean, economize and even sew?

We have begun to open the doors for careers for women, why not open the oven door for men?

Teenagers need to learn that housework is synonymous with adulthood, not woman-hood.

If two people are to make each other happy, they have to learn to adapt. So let's teach all teenagers who plan to work outside the home, how to do the work inside the home.
